Old City, New Story

Race Street Pier

Welcome to Old City, where old and new converge. Bordered by the Delaware River waterfront on one side and some of the nation's most iconic historic sites on the other, Old City entertains from day into night. Want to see where our country was founded? Have a passion for fashion? Ready to eat your way through a United Nations of flavors? Looking for artistic inspiration? Devoted to design? Determined to start your own dance revolution? Old City is your place. It's historic. It's fun. It's artsy. It's edgy. It's inspired. It's creative.

Within a few short blocks, you'll find some of the country's most treasured historic sites—Independence Hall, the Liberty Bell Center, Betsy Ross House— alongside some of the country's most innovative new sites—National Constitution Center, National Museum of American Jewish History, The President's House. Explore these sites, and feel proud, patriotic, moved and motivated.

Shoppers find Old City overflowing with indie and owner-operated boutiques, galleries and showrooms filled with hard-to-resist clothing, jewelry, art and home furnishings. On the First Friday of every month, galleries keep their doors open late night to show off new works and exhibits to art lovers. But, in reality, any day of the week is the perfect time to stroll up and down 2nd and 3rd Streets, hitting side streets along the way, in search of ogle-worthy wares. Keep in mind, your dollars go further, since there is no sales tax on clothing and shoes in Pennsylvania.

When it's time to dine, the key word in Old City is choice. In fact, there are so many restaurants, cafes and bistros that discerning diners could eat out for more than 100 days straight without ever hitting the same spot twice. Take your pick of cuisines. Choose from casual to upscale. Decide on a BYOB or full-service restaurant. Then savor, indulge, enjoy.

After dinner, consider taking in a movie, watching a play, catching a musical performance, sipping a cocktail or hitting the dance floor. Then plan to unwind at one of our neighborhood hotels, and get ready to have a completely new Old City adventure tomorrow.

10 WAYS TO SPEND YOUR DAYS & NIGHTS IN OLD CITY

1. Get a new profile pic in front of the Liberty Bell.
2. Travel back in time for an old-fashioned treat of the one-glass, two-straw variety at Franklin Fountain.
3. Catch an indie flick at one of the neighborhood's three Ritz Theaters.
4. Celebrate freedom glorious freedom at the National Constitution Center.
5. Shop for the perfect pants, sky-high stilettos or just-the-right jeans at the indie shops along 2nd and 3rd Streets, and remember there's no sales tax on clothing or shoes in Pennsylvania.
6. Putt away at Franklin Square's Philly-themed mini-golf, then celebrate victory with a Cake Shake.
7. Grab a window-side seat at any restaurant or bar on 2nd Street, and people-watch the night away.
8. Forget Franklin's "a penny saved is a penny earned" mantra, and throw a penny on his grave for good luck.
9. Then, see Philly's favorite Founding Father in all his 3-D glory during Liberty 360, a 15-minute love letter to liberty.
10. Shop, eat, drink, dance, sleep over, repeat.

SHANE CONFECTIONERY

Established in 1863, Shane Confectionery is the oldest continuously run confectionery in the United States. The Shane family took over the business in 1911, installing elaborately carved woodwork, stained glass and curved windows to showcase the chocolates and confections made onsite. Ninety-nine years later, the business transitioned to the Berley Brothers, owners of nearby Franklin Fountain, who meticulously restored the building and business. Candies continue to be made on-site, with an emphasis on locally sourced ingredients, seasonal specialties and old-fashioned quality.

Museums

AMERICAN PHILOSOPHICAL SOCIETY MUSEUM

In 2001, the American Philosophical Society (APS), our nation's oldest learned society, opened a museum in Philosophical Hall for the first time since Charles Willson Peale created America's first museum on the site in 1794. The APS Museum presents ambitious exhibitions—including work by contemporary artists—exploring the intersections of history, science and art in new and thought-provoking ways based on the Society's collections from the Founding Fathers to the computer age. 104 S. Fifth St., 215.440.3440, www.apsmuseum.org

PENNSYLVANIA HOSPITAL
